A NOTE REGARDING CELL PHONES

We understand that cell phones are a great way for students to call/text home. We also know that cell phones can be a huge distraction during a conference like this. If your students do bring a phone we will ask them to leave the phone off during the conference sessions. They can use the phones to call home in the evenings after the conference is over. You will be able to get a hold of your students through the cell phone #s listed under emergency information at any time. All of our leaders will be connected by cell phone during the conference in the event of an emergency.
